

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 1:22

Have you had one of these here colds that are going around? I have and I have been feeling like hell. I have taken everything I knew of, and everything Mabel knew of, and am now waiting to get a suggestion due in from J. Z. Pryor who got a hold of some new fangled remedy on one of his numerous trips. Let's see: aspirin, 4 Way cold tablets, penicillin, aka seltzer, Vicks salve, Mabel rubbing my back and chest with alcohol, Arm & Hammer soda, clean socks and I am now fixing to go to Oxberry and dig up some "massa-frass" roots for tea.

I just don't know what the Baptists are going to do with Red Briscoe checking out of that church and joining the Methodists.

Here's a New Year wish stolen by Bette Maxwell of Lexington, Ky. from Goethe and mailed to Mabel and me: "Health enough to make work a pleasure; wealth enough to support your needs; faith enough to make real things of God, and hope enough to remove all anxious fears concerning the future."

It is hard to understand that so MANY black folks get embroiled with Grenada's law, and so FEW white folks.

If officers would look a little bit closer, I believe they would find a lot of devilment going on among the white folks, like gambling and having licker in their homes and so forth.

Here's a po' devil in front of our office with two tickets on his car - a white one for overparking and a red one for parking on the wrong side.

If Al Gully and his committee of other busy men can stop a day to get up money for the Polio Drive, the least others can do is pitch in what we can and let the collectors go on their way without delay.

It would be interesting to know what percent of folks charged with and punished for petty crimes in Grenada is Negro and what percent white.

Frances Kent called in and said the goals for the polio drive are: for City, $5,000; for county, outside City, $2,000.

I'm getting to be an animated pin cushion, what with my shooting myself with insulin every morning before breakfast and Mrs. Ford shooting me with penicillin after breakfast.

That fellow McKinnon in Ward 15-A I wrote about last week sent in a check for three dollars for a subscription to the whole ward up there in Kennedy Hospital.

Every now and then, usually about 3 months apart, we set out a drive for renewals. We got out a bunch of notices last week and have had a steady stream of money ever since. We have already got what we call "stamps back." We use a lot of stamps in the drive and when we get back enough money for the stamps, we feel lucky.

I'm glad to see that Virginia Hubbard has withdrawn her resignation as secretary down at the C of C.

Grenada will be represented at the inaugural ceremonies by a reformed yankee, Sonny Hubbard, who goes there with the U. of Ind. band.

Congratulations to the Baptists, who have started their Weekly Messenger, a printed bulletin. From it we note that they have sewed up $55,000 of the $100,000 building fund.

During 1952, 34.6 inches of rain fell in Grenada, Hiram West, water superintendent, reported this week. This is 16 inches below normal, for Grenada, he said.

Aint they sweet.

Was Last Of Famed Scottish Family

Mrs. Adelia Caroline Gibson Lawrence died at her home in Grenada County Saturday afternoon, Jan. 3, 1953.

She was born March 11, 1865 in Grenada County, the daughter of the late Carey Lanier Downs Gibson and Elizabeth Latham Gibson.

In 1888 she was married to Mr. Frank Timothy Lawrence of Maplesville, Ala. They lived in Texas for a few years and spent the rest of their lives in Grenada County. Mr. Lawrence died Sept. 23, 1948.

Mrs. Lawrence was descended from the Gibson and Latham families who came to this country about 200 years ago. She was directly descended from Rev. Tobias Gibson, first Methodist minister of the Southwest who came to Natchez in 1769.

The Gibson ancestors came to the United States from Pentland, Scotland. Some of them were barons and lords during the reign of King James IV. Mrs. Lawrence was the last one of the Gibson family. She was a Methodist.

Polio Drive In City To Start January 12th

Al Gully, polio drive chairman for the business district of Grenada plans a whirlwind drive on Monday morning, January 12, beginning at 8 o'clock to collect funds for the 1953 polio drive from all business firms and offices located in the business district.

Mr. Gully, one of the city's busiest merchants, has devoted this week to organization of workers, who are equally as busy as he and, who are willing to devote their efforts to the drive. They know, as we all know, the need for funds to continue the fight on Polio, and to continue laboratory research, and to administer to those stricken. This takes money and it is the hope of all, and the prayers of many whose lives may be remade through treatments that Grenada County will reach its quota in record time and by so doing help to replenish the county, state, also the National fund to fight polio.

Be ready when the committee calls on you Monday morning.

1953 Chevrolet, All New To Be Shown Friday

The 1953 Chevrolet, all new in design and with improved engine performance, will be unveiled at McCormick Chevrolet Co. Friday, Jan. 9th (Today).

The public is invited to come by and inspect the new model.

Much interest has been evinced in the '53 Chevrolet because its appearance has been kept a complete secret from the public.

Cliff McCormick, owner of the local Chevrolet Co., said (in part) last week after seeing the new model: "It is quite apparent from the product that the largest automobile company in the world is anticipating one of its biggest years in 1953." He also said: "the new Chevrolet will create entirely new conceptions of automotive beauty and performance."

Air Force Officers Visit Air Base Here

Representatives from the Dept. of the Air Force made a brief inspection visit to the Grenada Air Base Wednesday morning.

In the group were Lt. Col. Edward Munns and five other Air Force men. The purpose of the visit was to bring Air Force records up to date on the installations.

Congressman T. G. Abernethy who informed the Chamber of Commerce of the visit emphasized that the visit was merely a routine survey and involves no commitments on the part of the Air Force to ultimately use the installation.

The Air Force men were met at the Air Base by Benton Keeton and Bob Christopher, pilots, John E. McEachin, city manager; C. M. Stricklin and Redney Deffenbaugh of the Airport Chamber of Commerce Committee.

The men inspected the landing strips, hangar, shop building and parachute building. They were here for an hour and a half and left for Greenwood.

Parking Meter Receipts - $219

Receipts from the parking meters totaled $219 on Monday morning, Sam Ferguson, traffic officer said.

The comparative smallness of the take was due to a holiday, New Year's Day, occurring last week.

1st Lt. Hugh Ketchum is now out of the Army and at home here.

94 POUND BASS CAUGHT BY BOB PRICE'S BROTHER

Douglas Price of Crystal Springs, brother of Bob Price of Grenada, caught a 94 pound bass in Lake Jackson near Greenville on Dec. 27. Bob, Douglas and their other brother, Byron were fishing from a boat and the weather was clear, cold and very little wind.

The bass was caught on a "clucker." This is the largest bass which has been caught recently in Mississippi, they believe.

-HOME AGENT NOTES-

Don't Overheat Pot Plants

Your pot plants add a cherry note to a room any time of year, and particularly during the grey winter days. For them to thrive best though you had better watch the temperature of the room. They like a cool room where the temperature is between 55 and 70 degrees.

Very few plants grow well in the dry atmosphere of temperatures of 70 to 75 degrees, and above 75 most pot plants fail.

In the winter, keep the plants out of overheated rooms; in the summer give them the coolest location possible, particularly at night.

Chop 1 cup coconut, 1/2 cup walnuts and 1/4 cup raisins. Add 1 cup peanut butter, dash of salt, 1 tablespoon cream and enough confectioners' sugar to make mixture easily handled. Pat out into 1/4 inch sheet, spread with melted sweet chocolate, roll up into long roll and cut into thin slices. Yield: 3 dozen slices.

Poultry

Facilities for freezing and storing poultry are now available to a large number of people in Grenada County. Many who use these facilities are asking how chickens should be selected, bled, killed, dressed and drawn.

The aim of everyone who slaughters poultry should be to maintain as much of the quality possessed by the live bird as possible. The methods and skills used in selecting, bleeding, killing, drawing and dressing chickens will affect the percent of live bird quality that is maintained.

Tuesday, January 13, at the County Agricultural Building at 2 p. m., Miss Mary Agnes Gordon, Marketing Specialist from State College, will demonstrate "Killing and Dressing Poultry." All program leaders from home demonstration clubs are urged to attend.

Mr. John S. King of Memphis flew to Grenada Sunday to spend the day at the bedside of his mother who is a patient in Grenada Hospital. He was accompanied by Mr. Lucian Burch who spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Doak.

BY FED ROBINSON

Come, now, little Christmas tree, you have fulfilled the purpose for which you were made. Like the year of 1962, you have come and gone. Now we put you in the ash can, never to see you again. On Christmas morning you had your hour of glory. We hope you were pleased with your performance as we were with the people gathered around you. You had all attention for a time when beneath your branches you held close to your self all those treasures that were gathered from so many points of the world. You were the custodian for a time of those many pretty things designed to create happiness and with your lights a-glitter and the ribboned parcels hanging tight to your protective arms, you were beautiful in those triumphant moments of your destiny. We are told that nothing is ever totally destroyed, so maybe you will exist on and on in some other form, and if you do you may well be proud of the part you played during your last days as you stood so erect and proud in the front room of our house. We are grateful to you and for the enjoyment you gave us. Next Christmas we will remember you when we are visited by one of your kind, and will send you word by your successor just how the party came off in 1963.

Perhaps the most happy hour of the year for most of us is spent around the little Christmas tree on Christmas morning. Because then it seems all the trials, tribulations and bewilderment of a cold world fade away, and inside our own little world there is only peace, happiness and love. Although this little hour is fleeting, and realities crowd out the fantasy as time presses on and we must follow it, we believe there are some things about each Christmas which stay on with us. Gifts, expressions, and smiling faces linger on to become pleasant memories, and we can always keep our memories filed away in our hearts to be taken out and reviewed again, and again, perhaps in later years when memories will mean more to us, and as they become about all we have gleaned from our experiences.

A note to Louise Arent Rotter, Oslo, Norway, who writes: "I'll tell you out loud I read your column and like it." Thank you very kindly, little lady, and thank you for your comment on the beautiful snow scenes of Sanner Pensionat where you and I recently spent a holiday. Those rolling hills and fir trees covered with beautiful snow, lend enchantment as well as distance of far-away Oslo from the Delta lands of Mississippi. All good wishes for your happiness, and may the great North star shine brightly over your new home so far away.

Burial Park people please copy: The first money ever spent in this world was when Abraham gave about $23.00 for a plot of ground to bury his beloved Sarah.

Have you really sacrificed anything lately? Read this - the most sacrificial act we have heard of recently was when the Korean family sold their only ox to give money to a Mission, and then pulled the plow themselves as they worked their farm.

Some people believe the United States ought to make our immigration laws more liberal. Well maybe so, but right now our population is growing at the rate of: 1 every 13 seconds - 4.6 every minute - 277 every hour - 6648 per day - 200,000 per month and 2,400,000 every year. That is sumpin' ain't it? Perhaps our Congress is refusing to liberalize the law were afraid of more Communists, but our impression is right now we are plagued as much by Americans who have joined the Red scourge as we are by the Stalinites. What a shameful situation!

Birthday greetings for January:
Thomas A. Bell, Jan. 1; Sam J. Simmons, Sr., Jan. 7; Henry Ray Jr., Jan. 12; Bill Speers, Jan. 17; Jesse Phillips, Jan. 20; Noble Paschal, Jan. 22; Dr. Bill Hyde, Jan. 29; (Will be unable to give you a cake this year, Bill.) -Fed.

Who remembers Threadell, about whom Dr. Semmes used to talk so much? I don't, but I remember Dr. Semmes talking about him.

Who remembers when old man Jeff Staten gave each of his children 160 acres of land?

Who remembers when the Pryors occupied the store now occupied by L. Friedman?

Who remembers when Heath and Lickold were NOT here. I don't.

Who remembers how neat and immaculate Bob Townes' father, the late R. B. Townes, was. In that respect and in many other respects, Bob is a spit image of his daddy.

Who remembers when old man Landon Dubard was not only chief of police, but collected taxes, looked after the streets and kept the pound? Grenada, indeed, has grown.

Aint they sweet.

Notice, therefore, is publicly made that the road referred to is a private farm road and not a public road which can be used without my oral or written consent.

I am asking Byron Hunter, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Grenada County, to acknowledge receipt of a copy of this notice, am asking that he present this notice to the Board of Supervisors at its January

—SOIL CONSERVATION—

(By Rex R. Blue, SCS)

New cooperators of the Grenada County Soil Conservation District are Wallace Smart, Hardy; Homer Carver, Grenada; and W. K. Shaw Pleasant Grove. Complete Soil and Water Conservation plans have been prepared for their farms. These farmers will receive assistance from the District in carrying out soil conserving practices on their land.

E. W. Deloach, Jr. has completed a 2000 foot dragline ditch on his farm west of Osberry. Mr. Deloach plans to clear land adjacent to the ditch for cultivation and pasture.

Mr. Ernest Staten has had 1000 feet of secondary drainage ditch and a 1000 foot V-ditch on his farm at Geeslin Corner. The ditches will drain approximately 75 acres of wet land. Technical assistance for laying out the ditches was furnished by the Soil Conservation Service.

Twenty cooperators of the District received 11,000 blue gill bream for stocking ponds constructed this year. Large mouth bass will be placed in the ponds in the Spring.

A number of farmers were busy last week sodding the dams and spillway for their ponds. December 31 was the final date for carrying out this practice. Farmers who have ponds that need sodding or other repair are urged to get them in good condition before the heavy Spring rains. Often a little work in time will save a pond.

Mississippi Power & Light Company Buys First State-Made Transformer

J. B. Fountain (right), chief engineer for Mississippi Power & Light Company inspects the first electrical transformer to be manufactured in Mississippi. Made at Crystal Springs by the Kuhlman Electric Company, the transformer will be purchased by Mississippi Power & Light Company for use in the state. J. A. Snelko, plant manager, is shown discussing the transformer with Fountain. The Crystal Springs division of Kuhlman Electric Company has been in production since September and will soon have ready for shipment several additional transformers for Mississippi Power & Light Company, the U. S. Navy and the Army.

Mississippi Towns Proving Value of Local Promotion

Twenty-one aggressive Mississippi communities have set about to prove to themselves and to their sister citizens of Mississippi just what can be accomplished in the way of self improvement through proper organization and community-wide cooperation.

The first chapters of an interesting history of community development are contained in reports from that many communities which participated recently in the state's first annual "Community Travel Development" contest staged jointly by the Agricultural and Industrial Board and the oil industries of the state.

The little town of Booneville in Northeast Mississippi won the first prize of $1,000 for the most thorough and original program, with Collins second, and Gulfport in third place. Prizes already have been awarded all three in appropriate ceremonies, and plans are already underway by most of the participating communities to stage year-round travel development projects.

Booneville's Mayor Marion W. Smith's year-round committee has already revealed plans for using its winning prize money for permanent welcoming signs at the approaches to the city, for local park improvement, and for a unique project to line both sides of the highway approaches to the city with Magnolia trees. He hopes to encourage other communities along the U. S. 45 to take up the latter project and extend the plantings to the Gulf Coast.

Similar long range plans of permanently established community groups are being considered in other Mississippi communities which have seen the advantages of special promotions which they have staged as a feature of the state-wide "Hospitality Month" observance. Next year's contest, A. & I. Board spokesmen believe, will draw even greater interest and will probably be based on year-round programs.

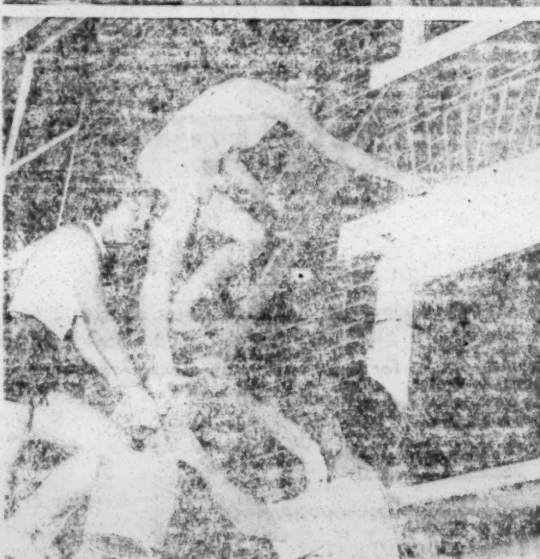

Communities, in addition to Booneville, which received prize money or honorable mention from the three out-of-state judges were Collins, Gulfport, Grenada, Laurel, Meridian, Montrose, Natchez and Summit.

Here are some of the things they did to merit special notices:

Collins organized a permanent committee, worked in all civic organizations, erected an information booth and welcome signs, entertained tourist guests with food, drink, and music; conducted clinics, painted up and cleaned up the city, distributed literature and souvenirs, and installed permanent lighting in a nearby roadside park. Gulfport, which conducts a year-round tourist promotion program, erected a booth, set up special welcome signs, distributed souvenirs and literature, held clinics, conducted a point-up clean-up campaign, planned special events, worked with police on a special courtesy ticket promotion, and planned special publicity and promotion events.

Laurel worked up a special calendar of events for the month, mounted six "Hospitality Stops" for tourists, erected welcoming signs, drew in all Laurel civic organizations, made daily citations to persons demonstrating unusual courtesy, published a new brochure on the city, and encouraged 16 local stores to participate in a huge "Miss Hospitality" contest with a complete wardrobe for the winner, plus a cash donation for her trip.

Natchez, also a year-round tourist city, cited a number of special promotions, including the visit of General Douglas MacArthur, a nationwide ABC radio network program on Natchez, window displays, establishment of historical markers, stopping of tourists at the Natchez bridge, clinics, courtesy parking tickets, and the distribution of guest books by a local hotel. A complete transcription of the network radio program was included in the Pilgrimage City's attractive report.

Everybody in Booneville pitched in to help that North Mississippi town win the state-wide "Community Travel Development" contest prize of $1,000 in July. Top, Mayor Marion Smith, second from right, and Miss Myra Joyce Bishop, local "Miss Hospitality," greet a tourist couple from Missouri at the city's "Hospitality Booth" on U. S. Highway 45. In the picture, below, two Booneville girls get an assist from Chief of Police Clyde Falcum during a paint-up, clean-up campaign. The girls' top down, Betty Jane Price, and Gaye Oakley, are working on the City Hall. The county board of supervisors at the request of the local committee issued $50,000 in bonds for a paint-up and clean-up of the courthouse and jail.

The small town of Montrose, located on Miss. Highway 15 between Newton and Bay Springs, launched its program with a paint-up, clean-up drive, set up a "Hospitality Booth" for tourists, held a clinic, made a woman tourist they stopped "Queen For A Day," served a home cooked meal to a tourist couple, prepared a history of their town for distribution, and made use of a "Hospitality Certificate" for persons in the community who displayed unusual courtesy to visitors. The Travel Committee is making plans to continue the good work on a year-round basis.

Summit organized a permanent year-round committee, encouraged service stations to serve as Tourist Information Centers, set up welcome signs to all approaches to the city reading "Summit For Southern Hospitality," selected a "Miss Hospitality," cleaned up and painted up, served fresh lunches to various couples whom they stopped at their booth, provided visitors with coronas and boutonniere, prepared special literature for distribution, and presented citations to local persons treating visitors with unusual courtesy and friendliness.

Grenada, devoting the entire month to the project, launched a year-round program, from 1952 to 1953, requested daily throughout the month, erected hospitality month signs and placards, conducted tours of the city, held clinics, presented autographed bills, utilized all organizations of the community, prepared special literature and attractive cards for distribution, and conducted an effective radio and newspaper publicity campaign to call attention to its attractions.

Most attractive scrapbook: prepared for the judges was turned in by Meridian's Community Travel Development Committee, which placed considerable emphasis on its attractive "Hospitality Booth" at the intersection of U. S. Highway way 45 and 80, and stopped hundreds of automobiles.

The huge scrapbook, bound in highly polished native wood, contained pictures, numerous letters, newspaper clippings and other materials used in its attractive "Hospitality Month" program.

Other communities which turned in glowing reports of the work of their committees included: Brookhaven, Clarksdale, Ellisville, Fayette, Forest, Jackson, Lucedale, Magnolia, Ocean Springs, Seminary and West Point.

MISSISSIPPI MARKS AVIATION PROGRESS ON BIRTHDAY OF FIRST POWERED FLIGHT

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is another in a series of articles prepared by the State Aeronautics Commission designed to broaden the knowledge and interest of Mississippians in aviation. It is timed to reach you during the observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the first powered flight by the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

Mississippi, which has kept pace with the rest of the nation since the famous Wright Brothers made their historic first powered flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., on December 17, 1903, may take credit for a major contribution to aviation when the fiftieth anniversary of this important feat is launched this month throughout the world. The observance of this revolutionary event, to be staged by a committee of 100 prominent aviation leaders under the direction of pioneer Jimmy Doolittle, will open Dec. 17th in Washington with a Wright Memorial dinner, and will continue throughout the next 12 months.

The occasion marking the pioneering exploit of the Wright Brothers, Orville and Wilbur, also gives Mississippians an opportunity to review some of the aviation firsts accredited to the Magnolia State.

A pioneer in aerial agriculture, Mississippi has contributed more to its development than most of the other states combined. Although commonplace today, the first commercial dusting by plane was accomplished in 1924 at Heathman, Mississippi. Today approximately 50 dusting and spraying companies operate in the state in a serious business which is a far cry from the barnstorming antics of earlier adventurous pilots. The Wright Brothers when they lifted their first airplane from the ground probably never dreamed of the many uses which Mississippians would find for their invention.

Today the airplane is a great factor in the economic, industrial and agricultural development of the state. There are over 750 registered aircraft, approximately 5,000 licensed pilots, 31 municipal, 25 commercial, 20 private, and four military airports in Mississippi. Just a little over 20 years ago, in 1931, there were only nine municipal airports in operation.

As early as 1911, there were only a few licensed pilots in Mississippi, and they were forced to use cow pastures and cotton fields for airports. Probably the first of these was J. D. Sellers, prominent Jackson automobile dealer, who still operates two planes of his own.

Two other early Mississippi pioneers in the field of aviation were the Key Brothers, Al and Fred, of Meridian, whose names are recorded in the record books. Taking up flying in 1924, these intrepid adventurers in 1935 in Meridian established the world's sustained flight endurance record of 653 hours and 34 minutes, using their own planes. Meridian's modern Key field is named for them.

Another outstanding name in the fabulous history of flying is that of Roscoe Turner of Corinth, who learned to fly in Memphis at 18 and brought his first plane, "Flying Jenny", back to Corinth. He flew in World War I, was one of the nation's first racing pilots, in 1929 set a transcontinental record, and in 1928 won the Cleveland Air Race. He is also a three-time winner of the Thompson Trophy race.

Fleets of all-metal, single-engine, four-place planes like this quartette of Ryan Nationals are everyday becoming more commonplace in business and industry, as companies discover them the fastest, surest answer to their cross-country transportation problems.

Others too numerous to mention, the Simpson family of Aberdeen, La. Commander George Anderson of Holly Springs, Richard E. Byrd's pilot on one of his post war ventures to the South Pole; and numerous military heroes of World War II have all earned places of prominence in the annals of this Twentieth Century invention.

Names like these have provided not only color but important contributions to the record of this half-century-old means of transportation and fighting strength. But research, improvements in airport facilities, protective measures, extension of commercial airline service, and development of the airplane for private and business use have done more than anything else to affect the lives of almost every Mississippiian.

Many industries such as power and pipeline companies patrol their extensive power and fuel networks in an effort to guarantee dependable, uninterrupted service. The Highway Patrol operates its plane to transport personnel, control congested traffic and assist in manhunts. The Forestry Commission uses planes to control forest fires, and the Mississippi Geological Survey operates its own helicopter for soil erosion studies and in searching for oil deposits.

The entire state in recent years has been mapped aerially, maps which are used by every county agents' office and which contribute to acreage control, flood control, and timber measurement.

Executives use this popular means of transportation extensively in Mississippi, as do farmers who have formed a "Flying Farmers" chapter to promote the practical use of the airplane in agriculture.

Aside from the sportsmen who use the plane for fishing and hunting trips, Ole Miss showed the way for 200 colleges who now carry their football teams to and from games where more than 200 miles of travel is involved.

Mississippi's first airline service came in the late twenties when Wadell Williams Air Service stopped in Jackson for passengers every Thursday en route New Orleans to St. Louis, making the return trip on Friday. Robinson Brothers Airline followed, and in 1929 Delta Airlines inaugurated passenger service east-west from Dallas to Atlanta, a day's trip with stops at Jackson.

Today four scheduled airlines serve 13 Mississippi cities and surrounding areas. An example of the stepped up service is the fact that during a 24-hour period there are 25 flights in and out of Jackson alone which have a total seating capacity of 681 passengers.

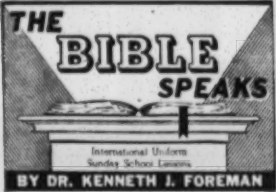

Every day the airplane is entering new fields and is helping Mississippi and the nation to grow faster. And Mississippi is responding through research at Mississippi State designed to improve flight and flight operations.

The Aerophysics Department of the Engineering Research Station has for five years been conducting experiments for the Navy and several airplane manufacturers which are providing them with valuable information.

The projects involve studies and measurements of the flow of air over and under wing surfaces which supply lift and drag, the effectiveness of large and small ailerons, and even the photographing of birds in flight to determine the secret of their operation.

One member of the staff, using data gathered, last August established the world's sailplane speed record with an average speed of 54.9 miles per hour.

Another milestone in Mississippi was the creation in 1946 by the Legislature of the Mississippi Aeronautics Commission to further the public interest and aeronautical progress of the state by providing protection, promotion, and development of flying.

Confess—Follow

Lesson for January 11, 1953

ANOTHER of those Bible words which are easy to misunderstand, is the word "confess." Ordinarily we connect this word in our minds with a court of law, or with some wrong that has been done. When we say the prisoner signed a confession, we mean he admitted he was guilty. When Catholics go to confession, they are expected to tell the priest all about their sins. In the English Bible the word sometimes has this meaning, as when John says that if we confess our sins, God will forgive (1 John 1:9).

Where Do You Stand?

But there is another meaning of these words "confess" and "confession" which is quite different. It does not always mean to admit. Sometimes it means to declare, to announce publicly and proudly, as plainly as possible. For instance, Paul tells Timothy (1 Tim. 6:13) that Jesus, before Pilate, made a "good confession." Paul is not saying for a minute that Jesus admitted that the charges against him were true. What he means is that Jesus stood up for God and his duty, he did not let down his flag, he stood out for the truth.

The expression is often used, referring to Peter's saying to Christ, "You are the Christ," and it has come to be known as "Peter's confession." This does not mean that Peter admitted something; on the contrary he affirmed something. He was declaring his belief, he was letting it be known where he stood. The Christian church has made much use of this word, but it might be clearer if we used some other words sometimes. All churches will tell young people and new converts how important it is to "confess" Christ. We could just as well say "standing up for" him; voting for him and having one's vote put on record. When Christ asks: Are you with me? Confessing means simply saying openly: Yes!

Christ Never Outranked

There is something else tied up in this idea of "confessing" Christ. It includes saying something about Christ, Peter's confession, according to Matthew, was "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." Luke reports that he said, "You are the Christ of God." Mark reports simply: "You are the Christ." All agree that Peter declared Jesus to be the Christ. To us, "Christ" is a name; to Peter it was a title, the highest title he knew. When a first-century Jew used the word "Christ" he meant there was no one else in his class. He meant God's chosen beginner of a new age. There was no higher word that Peter could have chosen than "Christ." So to this day when we say that a Christian confesses Christ, we ought to mean that he puts Christ above all others, that he knows no one can outrank Christ. We mean what the old hymn says, "All hail the power of Jesus' name, let angels prostrate fall."

More than Mouth-Christians

But there is still another word the church has always used, because Jesus used it. Follow. Confession alone is not enough. It may take courage to confess Christ. It takes sincerity and also stick-to-it-iveness to follow him. Confession can be done in a burst of enthusiasm; following takes the long pull. Confessing Christ means saying he comes first in your life. But does he? Who or what is really first? There are a great many—too many—church members today who have been as much of a Christian as they can possibly be—with their mouths. They have confessed Christ as Son of God, as Lord and Saviour. They have said, in effect, that they wish to be counted on his side. But when they "joined the church" or were "confirmed," that is about as far as it went. They hardly even warm a pew nowadays. What is needed is something more than mouth-Christians, voice-Christians, word-Christians, shouting Christians. What is needed is following Christians.

It is noticeable that almost immediately after Jesus had praised Peter for his confession, he called him Satan, the very devil. For it was plain that Peter was thinking along lines quite different from Jesus. Following Christ means thinking more and more as he would think.

5 Counties In ONE County

That's what we have in Grenada County - 5 counties in 1 small county. Grenada County IS a small county. It could be hidden in ONE beat of one of the larger counties of this state.

So far as roads are concerned, we have five counties in this county - a full crew for each beat, a full set of road maintenance equipment for each beat, a purchasing agent for each beat, and a standard of excellence in each beat.

If folks don't want to REDistrict the county, as I have so long advocated, then how about changing our county's set-up to the proved and tested county-unit system, where there is ONE road crew, ONE set of road equipment, ONE purchasing agent and ONE standard of excellence in building and maintaining roads and bridges. Of course, under such a system, we would have to have MORE men and tools for the whole county than for one beat, but not FIVE times more.

Coahoma County got national prominence in its use of that system. Washington County has such a system and Hines County has a modified form of that system.

I'd like to see SOMETHING done for a change. What about YOU?

Let's Face It

Grenada is not getting the trade that its assorted stocks of goods and its geographic location entitle it to.

A state agency in Jackson determined a few years ago (we have the map showing the distribution of people within 50 miles of certain cities in Mississippi, including Grenada), and this study showed that there were MORE people within fifty miles of Grenada than there are within 50 miles of such cities as Jackson, Natchez and Meridian. A few firms in Grenada, including Revell and Oliver Hardware Co., appear to capitalize on this concentration of people in Grenada's legitimate trade territory. There may be others.

Grenada has a steadily diminishing number of Negro citizens and so does the county and so does its legitimate trade territory. The reasons for this are many and varied, yet it is a stubborn fact that they just ain't here like they used to be. Likely they will not come back. Those who ARE still here, or at least many of them appear to seek to shun Grenada as a trading place.

What is the reason or what are the reasons that Negro workers at the Plant shun Grenada and go South to Duck Hill or Winona. I just don't know positively, but I believe they shun Grenada because the "law", both city and county, is too hard on them.

Why do Holcomb folks appear to like Greenwood better than Grenada? Is Grenada too "uppity"?

Why do Oxberry folks, white and Negro, appear to prefer Charleston to do their trading? Grenada SHOULD have comparable stocks of goods and even BETTER prices.

When have you seen a citizen, white or Negro, from the fertile country around Leflore, trading in Grenada. Greenwood has been 'town' to those folks for many years and they flock there, you bet.

I'm not making any positive statement, but things "smell" to me that our "law" here is getting to be too much of a racket against Negroes. Surely the Negro is not the only fellow who has a pint in his house, or who shoots craps or, breaks other laws. If a visitor from Mars came here and monkeyed around in our courts of law he would be astounded, and perplexed, seeing both white folks and Negroes living here, but with ONLY Negroes getting embroiled with the "law." When he got back to Mars he would tell Martians that only black folks broke laws on earth. Yet how wrong he would be!!

If Grenada cultivated its own neighbors, it would profit more than from getting a new industry. We have neglected "industry" right at our door - the folks who SHOULD trade here but don't.

Mary Is Asking For It

Mary Cain of Summitt, is about to get what she has been asking for, a stay in the federal jail. She has refused to obey the tax-law concerning payment of social security for herself as a self-employed person and has defied the government.

Last week, the government padlocked her newspaper office, but Mary got a hack saw, cut the chain and mailed the chain and lock to tax headquarters in Jackson.

As much as we admire Mary for her stubbornness and for her willingness to suffer for principles' sake, it would be hard to believe that the government will let her "get away" with her defiance. No one person, however fetching in looks and intelligent as Mary can, or should, be able to defy the whole government of the United States.

I like Mary, but I don't want to go to jail with her. She has been knocking on the jail's front door for over a year now. If the government does not punish her, it might as well tear the law out of the books.

If they put her in the Oxford jail, Mabel and I hope to drive up to see her some times.

Washington Exodus?

By George Peck

In a previous article I expressed the opinion that General Eisenhower on January 20 will launch his Administration surrounded by just about the best group of assistants with which any president has ever been blessed. Then, I pointed out that in order to do the job of which they are capable, Gen. Eisenhower, his Cabinet and the Congress will need your help and mine.

The First National Bank of Boston in a recent issue of its New England Letter expressed the same view; it looks forward to the dawn of a new era at Washington as a result of the Eisenhower victory, but it also maintains that the American people must rally to the support of the President, his Cabinet and the Congress if that new era is to be the one that we so strongly desire.

"The time has come," it states, "when the American people must take a vigorous and courageous stand for national solvency, and be mindful of the warnings of Thomas Jefferson more than a century ago when he said: 'We must make our selection between economy and liberty, or profusion and servitude.' Congressmen who are fighting for economy in government and sound policies should be given strong support from their constituents. Every one concerned about the welfare of the country should join the nationwide movement to support action on the Hoover Commission's recommendations for the elimination of waste and inefficiency in Federal Government. To be victorious, this group should match the zeal and determination of the spenders who are squandering our substance and undermining the foundations of freedom."

Then the New England Letter pays heed to the over-centralization of power at Washington in recent years:

"In order to relieve the staggering load piled at the Administration's doorstep, many of the problems handled by the Federal Government should be settled at the state and local level. This must be done to restore state and local sovereignty. General Eisenhower has stated his objective as President would be to 'keep government close to the people... We will... see that this Federal Government is not taking over functions that they have no business performing. They should be returned to the states and municipalities.' As a step in that direction, the new Administration's platform provides for an immediate study of the reallocation of tax funds among the major government units."

Summing up, the New England Letter has this to say: "To maintain our solvency and integrity as a nation, we have no alternative but to return to the fundamental principles that have been responsible for our greatness. Thrift, hard work, pay-as-you-go, incentives for business enterprise and rising productivity are among the foundation stones of what is called the American System."

Last week in the column, I wrote of the resolution that Rep. Frederic R. Coudert (R., N. Y.) proposes to introduce in the new Congress—for a special Congressional investigation to devise ways and means for returning to private ownership approximately $20 billion worth of commercial enterprises that are presently operated by the Federal Govt.

Now, if General Eisenhower succeeds in getting the Congress to return to the various states and municipalities the many of their proper functions that have been usurped by Federal Government, and Rep. Coudert's proposal leads to turning over to private enterprise, where they rightfully belong, many projects now operated by government, there should be quite an exodus from Washington.

Who knows but that in the not-too-distant future, Washington landlords will be looking for tenants instead of shooing them away, and the sight?

that the visitor to the nation's capital, footsore and weary at the end of the day, no longer (to paraphrase the Scriptures) will in truth be able to lament that "he hath not where to lay his head?"

Won't that be the day, or rather,

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Snowden returned to their home in Memphis last week end after a Christmas visit with their sisters, Mrs. Grace Griffin and Miss Hazel Hallum.

Mississippi Power & Light Company Employees Win Ebasco Safety Award

Mississippi Power & Light Company president Rex I. Brown (left) is shown accepting, on behalf of all company employees, the Silver Award from Ebasco Services Incorporated Vice-President H. W. Scott, in recognition of the Power & Light Company's outstanding safety record during the past award year.

In winning the Silver Safety Award in competition with clients of Ebasco throughout the United States, the Mississippi Power & Light Company placed second among all utilities with their unusual record of accident prevention during the past year.

The terms and conditions of the Ebasco awards were set up by a committee of client company safety directors with the Ebasco Safety Consultant as Chairman. Every safety client company that achieves an injury index which is 25% or more below the national average for the industry of which it is a part receives an award. The two companies whose indexes are the greatest percentage below the national average receive the gold and silver plaques, or awards, respectively. The other companies receive certificates.

The injury index is computed by adding the frequency rate (number of lost-time accidents per million man-hours worked) to ten times the severity rate (days lost per thousand hours worked). The award year runs from July 1 to June 30.

Local and Social Activities

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, Society Editor, Phone 83 and 747

With Christmas holidays and New Years festivities over, social events pause, with regular club meetings and church activities taking precedent over the local news.

Several lovely social events, on New Years Eve and television parties during the football games, occurred too late for our issue of Jan. 1st.

We have no way of recording all Grenadians' names who attended the Ole Miss - Ga. Tech game. Some made the trip on the train, some in cars and, by hitch hiking. About 50 people attended from here, so we will omit the names.

On New Years Eve at 12.30 a. m. a very lovely social event, breakfast served at the Monte Cristo to eighty five friends, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Williams, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. David Dubard. As the New Year was ushered in, the guests, with Mrs. Doris Presgrove at the organ, sang "Auld Lang Syne" and other familiar folk songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dubard's house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hillary Whalley of Jackson were guests of honor. Mrs. W. E. Jackson included a few friends at a coffee hour at the Monte Cristo, in honor of Mrs. Ben Waller Thursday afternoon after the group had attended a television party of the Ole Miss-Ga. Tech game.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Carlisle announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Margie, to Airman 1-c Jack H. Fields of Milan, Tenn., the son of Mr. Earl Fields of Milan.

The ceremony will be performed on Saturday, January 10 at the First Baptist Church in Grenada at 3 in the afternoon, with the pastor, Rev. John Landrum officiating.

Invitations will not be sent, however, friends are cordially invited to be present.

Miss Carlisle is a graduate of Grenada High School and received her college education at Memphis State College. At present she is employed at Kennedy Hospital in Memphis as a medical secretary.

The groom is a graduate of Milan High School, also attended Memphis State College. He is at home on 30 day leave from England, where he is stationed, and to which base he will return on January 20. His bride plans to join him in England as soon as arrangements are completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Irby enjoyed having as their guests during the holidays their children, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ellis of Paducah, Ky., Mrs. Irby's sister, Mrs. Troy Brown, Mr. Brown and family and Mr. and Mrs. Whitson Irby and family all of Jackson, Miss.

The program at the 26th Century Club Tuesday afternoon was the showing of a Protestant film, "A Second Chance." Mr. John Brewer, furnished his screen, projector and speaker with sound effect, making for the club one of the most interesting programs of the club year.

The theme, the "Christian Home" was successfully carried out in a scene showing a home, a spired church and a modern school house, with little children figures. The open Bible and the tableau being arranged on a table having a blue background on which was pictured continents of the world.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

Dear Santa: If you have any left over, please send me a typewriter, a truck, a car, a house, a lot of money, a lot of love, a lot of happiness, a lot of health, a lot of peace, a lot of joy, a lot of life, a lot of everything. Yours truly, Albert Cohen, Merritt Island, Fla.

Albert Cohen's big ears paid off for him at the Sugar Bowl game the other day. He kept 'em open, listening to the horsemen and was able to cash in on a number of impromptu tips he heard about the horse races.

No wonder I did not see Fouts Clark in 15-A, Kennedy, when I was there. I heard, after I got back to Grenada, that Fouts was in the surgical department when he had to have one leg amputated, due to the old injury.

To make up for one fellow who wanted to be cut off the mailing list, we have Thomas C. Brewer, San Diego, to replace the one cut off. Our mailing list is a living thing: some off, new ones on.

Promptly by air mail on the 1st came a renewal from Mrs. Jack Wilson in the Canal Zone.

Promptly, in Mabel's purse, came a renewal check from Kirk McRee, Holcomb.

We spent Sunday mailing out renewal notices to our delinquents and hope they will not file them in the stove or waste paper basket.

Miss Jane Young yields to no one in promptness in renewing. She was Jane on the spot this time, too.

If you don't see Pete Embry moneysing around on the street as much as formerly, he is probably at home looking at his television set, an instrument that absorbs most of his time and attention.

From reports received, Lt. Mickey Hayward is having a grand time in England, seeing most of the historic spots. Any day now, I expect to hear that he has dated Princess Margaret Rose. Aside from the Korean scene, soldiers are having a "grand" war.

Speaking of Doak's reminds me of that a mulberry tree once stood on the corner close to the present front entrance and that the last man lynched in Grenada (and that was 50 years ago) was found one morning suspended from that tree. I was happy to read the other day that there was not ONE lynching recorded in the South in the year 1952. It is to the eternal shame of the South that the crime of lynching once was a common one.

Who remembers when, to get gasoline, one drove up to Doak's back door and got gas from a barrel in the back part of that store? Who remembers that, near Doak's back door, was a watering trough?

Who remembers when that firm was Doak & Wolf?

MISSISSIPPI POWER & LIGHT COMPANY COMPLETES FOUNDATION CONSTRUCTION ON $20,000,000 GENERATING PLANT

Reaching a signal milestone in erecting the Mississippi Power & Light Company's new $20,000,000 Delta Steam Electric Generating Station at Cleveland, engineers began pouring the concrete pedestal for the powerful Turbo-Generator, as disclosed today by R. B. Wilson, Company Vice-President in Charge of Operations.

Two of these huge superstructures or pedestals, each using approximately 1,300 cubic yards of concrete, or enough material to build a 3-foot wall half-way from Greenville to Jackson, will go up to support the two 105,000 kilowatt generators before the quarter of a million horsepower project is ready for trial operation in August, 1953.

Vice President Wilson predicted that the first of the two giant generators and boilers, each unit with the height of a ten-story building and enough horsepower to light two cities the size of Jackson, will go on the stand in about six months to start assembly.

Placing the Power Company, which began by serving only three communities almost thirty years ago, into line as one of the country's major electrical power producers, Mr. Wilson stated that the Cleveland plant will bring the company's total output to approximately a half million kilowatts, or ten times their generating capacity at the close of World War II.

Keyed well in advance of Mississippi's phenomenal industrial growth and development, as well as her modernized farming trends, the power company's potential electrical output will match any future demands anywhere in the company's 44-county territory. This is because of its own increased generating facilities plus the support gained by being a part of the Middle South Interconnected generating system capable of producing approximately 2,000,000 kilowatts.

As the huge Delta construction job comes out of the ground, with major foundation work now completed, and begins to climb into the air, other milestones of progress are being reached as more than 300 workers, engineers and specialists fan out over the largest project of its kind ever undertaken in Mississippi.

The 600-acre lake, which will store the water used for cooling purposes and which will circulate through the massive-steam condensers at a rate of 69,000 gallons per minute when the generators are producing at maximum capacity, is rapidly nearing completion. The erection of the dike, a 15-foot man-made wall of dirt which will girdle the square mile of water and which will contain more than 3,000,000 cubic yards of dirt, is being expedited.

A maze of materials are pouring onto the plant site by the carloads, including airbreak switches and fittings, reinforcing steel, valves, structural steel, electrical fittings, motors, pumps, pipe, and tanks.

Foundation work on the plant switch yard, pivot point from which the 250,000 horsepower energy flow will leap out across the Delta to Greenville, Indianola, Greenwood, Tunica and the company's interconnected transmission system, is progressing rapidly and completion is expected to be on schedule.

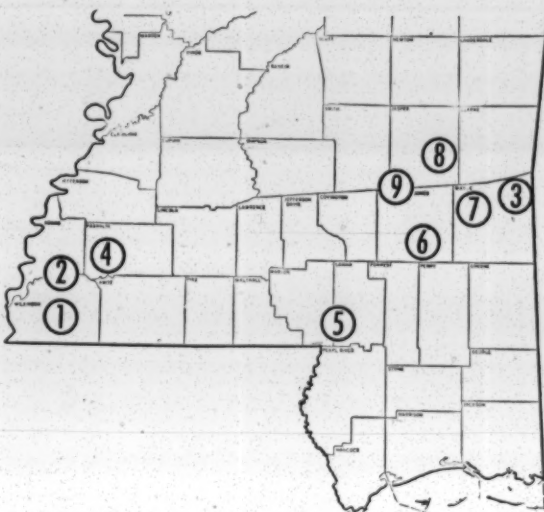

Designed by a corps of skillful engineers who have pooled their combined experiences with the nation's top investor-owned power companies, the Delta Steam Generating plant will be the latest word in efficiency and service and will assure the Power Company's customers and the state's future development a ample electrical power for decades to come.

Nine of State's Oil and Gas Fields Discovered By Gulf Refining Company

Indicated on the map above are the locations of the nine Mississippi oil and gas fields which have been discovered by Gulf Refining Company. Four of these fields, Wilkinson (1) and Ireland (2) in Wilkinson County, Hiwannee (3) in Wayne County and Garden City (4) in Franklin, were discovered during 1952 as Gulf drilled 42 wells, five of which were wildcats more than 10,000 feet deep. In previous years, Gulf has won credit for discovery of the important Baxterville (5), Overt (6), Eucutta (7), Heidelberg (8) and Soso (9) fields. Eight more Gulf wells are currently under way in Mississippi as 1952 draws to a close.

Gulf Has Eight Wells Under Way As 1952 Closes

Jackson, Miss. — (Special) — Gulf Refining Company, one of Mississippi's major oil producers, has eight wells—four field development wells, three wildcats and one stratigraphic test—under way as 1952 draws to a close.

These wells, scheduled for completion in 1953, will add to the total of 535 wells drilled by Gulf in Mississippi since the beginning of the company's operations here. Of these 535 wells drilled to date, 424 have been located in proven fields, 93 have been wildcats and 18 have been stratigraphic tests. All 18 "strat" tests were dry. Eleven of the 93 wildcats and 263 of the 424 development wells have been "brought in" for a total of 374 producing wells.

During 1952, Gulf drilled 24 development wells, 13 stratigraphic tests and five wildcats with 18 of the field wells and three of the wildcats being completed as producers of oil or natural gas.

The drilling activities of this pioneer company resulted in the discovery of four new Mississippi oil and gas fields in 1952—Ireland and Wilkinson Fields in Wilkinson County, Hiwannee Field in Wayne County and Garden City Field in Franklin County. In previous years, Gulf had won credit for discovering five of the state's fields including the important Baxterville, Soso and Heidelberg finds.

Leading the trend toward deeper drilling, Gulf pushed all five of its wildcat attempts below 10,000 feet. The depths of the wells Gulf drilled in 1952, when added together, give a total of 334,022 feet—more than 63 miles.

Besides having invested nearly $100 million in Mississippi, Gulf is currently adding $15.5 million in new money each year to the general economy of this state through tax payments, materials purchases, and payment of wages, rentals and royalties to approximately 7,000 people.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

Who remembers when Rob Doak, tired of what he called the gddemocrats, voted the Socialist ticket, thinking he was voting Republican?

Who remembers the REAL "country" fairs Grenada used to have; and President John Ambrose of Little Texas, dressed in his long black Prince Albert coat, immaculate white shirt and big black hat; Andy Richmond with his fast mare, Lizzie Britton; Shelly Guy with his pacer, Hal Whitney; papa with his pacer, Whitney, Hiram Hudson who took care of Whitney and Barfield who drove him. Grenada was a "country town" then and had "country ways" and in many respects, was better to live in.

Who remembers Cindy's Band? Who remembers when the Negro was trapped in a tree across the river when the water rose suddenly and how hideous he made the night with his cries for help and how Uncle Joe Williams was very sympathetic, until somebody offered Uncle Joe a "list" to contribute to rescue the po' fellow, and when Uncle Joe, frugal to the last, said, "the po' fool ought to stay at home." Referred to is NOT either the cop or the haberdasher Joe Williams, but is my grandman's uncle, the Doctor Joe W.

Who remembers the fight Willis Rayburn and "Fighting" Carpenter had? Who remembers when Cap'n Joe Slack, told the Judge that he'd be damned if he would be "parsed out of court" by a cock-eyed lawyer, referring to Will McLean?

Who recalls that August Olson, then supervisor of Bent One, and a big landowner at Elliott, was the county's very first progressive farmer? In farming, Mr. Olson was at least 25 years ahead of his time.

January PTA Meeting

Twenty five members were present at the January PTA on Monday night. Following the covered dish supper, Mrs. James E. Richardson presided. Secretary, Mrs. J. E. Gray, read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The group voted to provide napkins for the school cafeteria. Mrs. C. C. Richardson gave a report on the purchase of a coffee maker to be placed in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Sam Gillon, March of Dimes District Chairman, solicited the support of the organization in the January campaign and introduced key workers: Mrs. Maurice Phillips, Mrs. C. N. Schiele and William Dorroh.

Program chairman, Mrs. N. P. Shappley conducted a spelling match during the recreation period which resulted in the men losing to the ladies. She selected words from the 8th grade speller. (This contest provided not only fun but a reminder that people need to continue to study.)

Join and attend your local PTA. Every parent and interested person is cordially invited to attend the next meeting on February 2.
